Vacant buildings could shelter city's homeless

By Eva Astreinidou

VACANT buildings could be used to house the growing number of homeless people in Oxford.

The idea for properties owned by the council and university to be repurposed was given support by cross-party representatives at a council meeting on Monday.

Detailed proposals for the scheme are expected to be put together by September.

The move comes after a group of squatters known as Iffley Open House moved into a disused garage on Iffley Road over the winter.

Since then the group has been moving around seeking accommodation and has now had to leave a fourth Oxford building – the most recent being empty offices above Sainsbury's on Cowley Road.

Speaking after the vote supporting the motion, one of the Open House organisers, Neo, said: "I am glad they actually listened – at the same time I know this is not going to happen overnight.

"I have been fighting for those that need stability but I am just a guy who lives on the street. Companies and the university need someone from a charity that they could directly talk to.

"It is frustrating that everything takes so long – some vacant buildings have been there for a while but there are so many loopholes in the owners' contracts.

"What I want is results and for people to move on and get jobs."

Neo has been helping members of the Open House group find their feet. The group that started with 23 members now has just 12 as many have managed to find jobs and move into permanent accommodation.

Neo added: "If the squatters are serious about turning their lives around they will. We have to give them purpose otherwise there is no reason to change."

Councillor Mike Rowley, Oxford City Council member for housing, praised Open House for their work. He said: "I visited Iffley Open House when it was in operation and I was favourably impressed by the security measures, cleanliness and hygiene.

"Everywhere they have been I have urged the owners to be understanding and to delay eviction for as long as possible. However it must be acknowledged that empty commercial properties aren't designed for people to stay in and some are dangerous.

"The Holy Grail, as it were, would be to find suitable premises that the small number of homeless people not eligible for support through the local homeless pathway could use as a drop-in, to store belongings and to connect with the different agencies that could help them."

The problem of homeless people in Oxford was highlighted last year when it was revealed the number on the streets on an average night was 47.

Star draws

STORMTROOPERS took over Oxford city centre on Saturday as the second Comic Con attracted more than 2,000 fans.

Dressed in a variety of costumes the enthusiasts queued to meet Darth Vader who was on hand to sign autographs.

Using trains 'could take 2,000 lorries off the A34'

By Adam Flinn

MORE than 2,000 large lorries a day could be taken off the northbound A34 if more effort was made to transport freight by rail.

A report published by the Campaign for Better Transport found the railways could reduce road congestion on some of the country's busiest trunk roads.

At present there is an average daily flow of 4,809 five and six axle articulated lorries from Southampton making its way north on the M3 and A34 past north Hampshire.

But the report found this could be dramatically reduced to around 2,200 if rail lines were upgraded and more goods transported by train.

Spokeswoman for the campaign, Philippa Edmunds said: "This research confirms what we have long argued, that integrated rail and road planning is the best way to reduce road congestion, collisions and pollution.

"It shows that on certain strategic transport corridors it is possible to improve road conditions without needing to add more road capacity.

"Transferring freight from road to rail would bring serious additional benefits not quantified in this report – improved road safety and reduced air pollution and carbon emissions – and these should also be considered."

Restrictions on lorries have previously been called for on the A34.

These include preventing them from overtaking along the entirety of the A34 and reducing the speed limit to 50mph.

Campaign for Better Transport is calling on the Government to take this latest research on board when considering future investment.

The Department for Transport said: "We agree that rail freight offers real benefits for the environment and helps keeps bulky loads off the road network, helping to ease congestion for other motorists.

"We look forward to using these findings to help inform our coming road and rail strategies and are committed to working with the rail freight industry to support growth of the sector."

Lorries overtake on the A34. There have been several fatal accidents involving HGVs in recent years

Smoking ban

OXFORD: A voluntary smoking ban has been rolled out across 80 children's play areas in the hope it will reduce second hand smoke exposure.

Following a three-month trial at Cutteslowe Park, Florence Park and Sandfield Road, 71 per cent of people surveyed agreed the ban improved the play experience.

Almost 90 per cent would like to see a permanent ban.

Signs explaining the voluntary ban were installed over the last two weeks.

It is hoped it will be enough to encourage people to leave the play area before smoking.

Ian Brooke, head of community services, said: "The trial was well received and we have now extended it across the city council's 80 play areas.

"Second hand smoke can have a serious impact on health and we want to make sure that children do not suffer from this in our facilities."

Village is the star

Apply at villageoftheyear.co.uk via email at voty@raeftv.com.

BMW workers strike again in pensions row

BMW employees have gone on strike for the second time in the fight over proposed changes to their pension scheme.

Workers at Cowley walked out for 24 hours on Sunday.

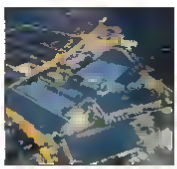
Further strikes are planned for May 16, 18 and 21.

Unite assistant general secretary for manufacturing Tony Burke said: "The solidly supported strike should serve as a wake-up call to BMW's bosses and underlines the determination of members to defend their hard earned pensions.

"BMW workers are deeply alarmed by the company's plans, which could see some of them lose up to £160,000 in retirement income.

"BMW bosses need to get their heads out of the sand and recognise this is no way to treat a workforce."

A spokesperson for the company previously said: "BMW has always prided itself in providing excellent pensions for its staff and wants to act now to protect future pension provision."



BMW's Mini plant at Cowley

Latest figures showed a surge in BMW Group's net profit of eight per cent to £6.9 billion, as well as a record year for Mini sales and a six per cent rise in Roll Royce sales.

A 24-hour strike on April 19 kicked off the series of protests. It was the first of eight strikes planned for four of BMW's UK plants, including Cowley, Barns Hall in the West Midlands and Swindon.

Prep school expansion to make way for more boys

By George Welch

A BOARDING school for boys hopes to welcome more pupils next year following a planning application for a pre prep expansion.

Summer Fields school Summertown, announced last week that it plans to accept 80 more boys to its prep school from September 2018.

Subject to planning permission, a new Summer Fields Pre-Prep building will open its doors to Reception and Year 3 boys providing places for boys joining at ages four and seven.

The new pre-prep will be housed in Newton, one of the oldest and most historic buildings on the school site and in Summertown.

The existing prep school is also to expand by offering additional day places for eight year-olds wishing to join the school in Year 4.

Year 1 and 2 classes will be introduced in the pre-prep in 2019 and 2020.

The school said the changes would make the school more accessible to boys from a range of backgrounds.

Headmaster David Faber said: "This announcement signals an exciting new chapter in the school's history.

"Summer Fields has an unrivalled reputation for academic and co-curricular excellence, with record results achieved again in 2016.

"With a long-held desire to serve the Oxford community better, we are now enabling boys to benefit from a Summer Fields education from the very start of their schooling."

The Mayfield Road school, founded in 1864, said it is to reduce fees to make the school more affordable for families.

The school will also offer more bursaries in boys wanting day or boarding places from September 2018.

Working with Oxford Architects a state-of-the-art development and extension of the existing building will provide purpose-built facilities for 80 boys aged four to eight.

In the heart of the school's 70-acre site the new pre prep building will house learning and library spaces as well as indoor and outdoor play areas.

Pupils will also enjoy full access to the school's facilities, including the sports hall, swimming pool, astro turf, tennis courts, playing fields and adventure playground.

Chair of governors Andrew Reekes added: "We are immensely proud of our position as one of the leading boys' prep schools in the country, providing the highest quality of education and outstanding pastoral care to both day boys and boarders.

We are delighted to now be able to make the benefits of a Summer Fields education available to even more boys."

Summer Fields will welcome more boys from September 2018 if its plans are approved

'Biting' arrest

OXFORD: A 25 year-old man has been arrested following an incident at an Oxford Nightclub where a man required surgery after he was bit on the face.

It happened at The Bridge club in Hythe Bridge Street at about 2.20am on April 8.

A man came forward after police published a CCTV image in an appeal for witnesses last week.

The 36 year old victim was bitten on the face. He has since been discharged from hospital.

The man from Abingdon was arrested on suspicion of grievous bodily harm and has been released while the police continue investigations.

Man knocked out

OXFORD: Police are trying to trace the person responsible after a man was knocked unconscious and robbed.

At around 9pm on April 19 an 18-year-old walking in Jeune Street, Cowley was attacked and had his phone and wallet stolen.

He was discovered by a good samaritan who called an ambulance.

The victim has since been discharged from hospital.

Investigating officer Jamie Thornton, from Oxford local CID, said: "Unfortunately the victim has no recollection of the incident so we need the public's assistance to help us to piece together what happened and to identify the offenders.

"There is likely to have been many people around."

Put £15,000 in the kitty to help care for baby animals

By Eva Astreinidou

AN animal rehoming charity is looking to raise £15 000 after an influx of newborn kittens, foals and rabbits

Blue Cross Burford is providing round-the-clock care for a number of baby animals who have arrived in recent weeks

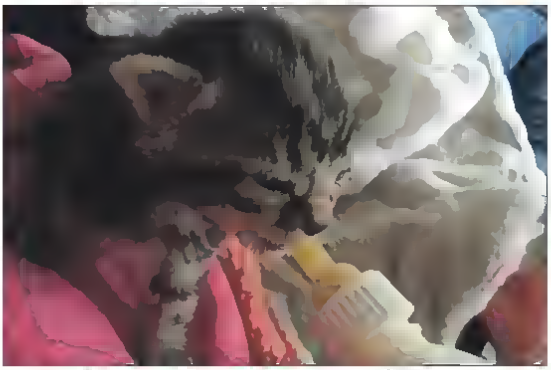
A 'Burford Babies' appeal has now been set up to help cover the costs of bringing up the youngsters

The appeal, launched just before Easter has so far raised over £2 500 It will continue for eight months

Jenna Martyn, Blue Cross Burford rehoming centre manager, said, "Last year we helped 1,700 animals and spent £100 000 on vet bills, but this year we ve a lot of extra mouths to feed, take care of and prepare to go back out into the world with a new owner

"Many of the babies born on site will need to be with us for a period of time before they are old enough and ready to be put forward for rehoming

"They ll also need neutering, vaccinations and microchipping and the mums will also need after care. The costs all add up."



Tatty the stray kitten had to be bottle fed through the night when it first arrived at the Blue Cross Centre Picture: Blue Cross

She added, "Our estimated costs to look after all these youngsters is £15 000 Any donations over and above the cost of care and treatment will go towards our work helping the hundreds of sick and homeless pets who come in to us."

Among the new arrivals are five kittens born last week to young cat Jinx, who came in to the centre heavily pregnant

And seven baby bunnies were born to Shirley a week after the rabbit arrived at the centre.

Caring for them could add up to around £1 000 including the costs of neutering, worming and microchipping and any veterinary costs

Round-the-clock care is also being given to a number of pregnant mares, four of which are due to give birth at any moment.

Five foals have recently been born on site. Staff lost a foal born earlier in the month despite staying up through the night to nurse the youngster

Foals will typically cost Blue Cross around £1,800 each to raise and it can take up to eight months until they are ready to be rehomed.

One foal, Daiquiri, is in need of regular vet and farrier visits to help treat the two-week-old for a condition called contracted tendons

The centre is also temporarily homing a tiny stray kitten called Tatty who was rescued from behind the wall of a hotel and has to be bottle-fed regularly through the night

It is now kitten season and more are coming in Blue Cross said "The extra mouths have an impact on our resources

"Funds raised by the Burford Babies appeal will help us to cover the cost of raising the newborns over the coming weeks and months."

Body found in wood 'not suspicious' say police

A WOODED area in Didcot was cordoned off after a body was found by a member of the public.

Emergency services were called to land just off Slade Road on Tuesday morning.

Police spokesperson James Williams said, "At 7 40am we had reports that a body had been found by a member of the public

"A man was pronounced dead at the scene. The death is not suspicious and a file will be prepared for the coroner"

The wooded area located opposite the junction with Slade Road, was cordoned off until shortly after 12.30pm on Tuesday

Carys Pelley of Barleyfields, the adjoining road, saw police and an ambulance when she arrived for work that morning.

She said the operation was in full flow

She added, "I expected to see a car in the hedge but I saw nothing like that."

A nearby resident said the police had cordoned off the area early on in the morning.

He said he was told by police there had been an incident but that the officers were rather 'zip-lipped' about it.

Celebrate best of rural Britain at Countryfile Live

By George Welch

THE nation's favourite countryside programme is to return to Oxfordshire's picture-perfect scenery for the second edition of BBC's Countryfile Live.

The best of rural Britain was matched with the stunning backdrop of Blenheim Palace as BBC Countryfile held its first live event last August.

After the success of the inaugural Countryfile Live 2016, which saw 125,000 people flock to the 100 acre site, the second helping of the summer's most action-packed countryside day out is eagerly anticipated.

The outdoor event, sparked by the huge popularity of BBC One's rural magazine series, will see all the Countryfile presenters return to the picturesque grounds of Blenheim Palace from August 3 to 6.

Exciting new attractions for 2017 include four days of live arena shows, hands-on activities, animal displays, debates, food, drink and shopping from over 500 independent retailers and lifestyle brands.

Jamie Blandford, the 12th Duke of Marlborough, said: "Following the success of last year I am honoured and thrilled to welcome Countryfile Live back to the historic setting of Blenheim for its second year.

"The 2017 event is going to be a fantastic occasion hosting fans of the show, locals, wildlife enthusiasts and families from all around the UK – all of whom I am confident will truly enjoy the experience of this special event in the spectacular historic grounds."

David Loudon, chief executive of sponsors Quilter Cheviot, said: "Once again we are thrilled to be part of this festival which celebrates all aspects of our rural landscape with Countryfile Live offering something for the whole family.

"Britain boasts some of the most beautiful scenery in the world and we are proud to support an event which highlights the importance of agriculture and the countryside to our economy."

Full show information and tickets are available now from countryfilelive.com.

Suspended jail terms for pair who avoided paying council tax

TWO men have received suspended prison sentences for failing to pay council tax.

Saleem Akram, of The Avenue, Kennington, was hit with a 17 week suspended sentence after he failed to pay more than £6,000 in council tax arrears to the Vale of White Horse District Council between 2012 and 2015.

Akram, whose sentence was suspended on the condition that he pays £200 per month towards his arrears, failed to pay his tax for three years despite repeated debt recovery and bailiff warnings.

Leader of the Vale, Cllr Matthew Barber, said: "Council tax ensures everyone pays their fair share for our public services.

"This sentence sends out a very clear message – if you deliberately fail to pay your share then you will face serious consequences."

In a separate case a Didcot man was handed a suspended prison sentence of 90 days for failing to pay his council tax arrears over an 18-year period.

Andrew Spiers, of Kynaston Road, was found by magistrates to have culpably neglected to pay more than £16,000 in council tax arrears owed to South Oxfordshire District Council between 2005 and 2016.

He received his suspended sentence of 90 days, providing he pays the agreed £200 per month towards his council tax arrears.

Spiers had a history of non-payment despite repeated debt recovery and bailiff action, the council said.

Cllr Jane Murphy, deputy leader of SODC said: "If someone fails to pay then they are effectively stealing from everyone else who contributes their fair share and we will not hesitate to take action against anyone who we believe is taking advantage in this way."

Akram and Spiers appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on March 21.

Oxfordshire marathon runners share their London experience

By Eva Astreinidou

ONE of the world's most popular marathons took place on Sunday, and Oxfordshire runners were among the thousands who displayed heroic efforts on the big day.

Despite ups and downs on the route to the finish, runners from Didcot, Oxford, Witney and Wantage raised over £18,000 for their designated charities.

EILEEN NAUGHTON was competing in her 10th London marathon and was touched by one particular event on the day.

She said: "The most amazing thing happened.

"A parent of a child receiving cancer treatment spotted her child's name on the back of my running vest. I had hand sewn all the names onto my vest as a way of having them with me.

She was so overjoyed with me just finishing the marathon. We had a hug and a few tears together."

LAURA THOMAS from Witney admitted she enjoyed the first 20 miles, but added: "The last six miles however, were a mixture of great and painful.

"Between miles 22 and 24 I was exhausted and in a lot of pain. I slowed down to a walk, but the crowds really cheered me on and I managed to get back to running by mile 24.

"I set myself a target of raising £2,500 for the Royal National Institute of Blind People (RNIB) and am almost there."

To donate to Laura, go to uk.virginmoneygiving.com/LauraThomas22.

SIMON STONE from Wantage wasn't put off by sustaining an injury just over half way round.

He said: "The atmosphere was amazing, I injured my knee around the 14 mile mark so was in pain from then onwards so I didn't hit my personal goals.

"But looking back I am so glad of my achievement."

Simon was running to help Wantage Counselling and Training Centre, an organisation which helped him through some mental health issues. To donate go to tinyurl.com/me2jspy

JAMES GESNER from Oxford admitted that Sunday was not a great running day for him saying: "It was really enjoyable but sometimes you have good running days and other days are not so good."

While he may have found it a hard physical challenge this time, he was delighted with the amount raised for his two causes – Footsteps Foundation and AMMF.

He said: "My personal target was to raise as much as I could but I have raised over £12,000 which is unbelievable."

"This year we're encouraging women to harness that fighting spirit and take on their own fitness challenge by signing up to Race for Life.

Cancer Research UK's Race for Life is a women-only series of 5k, 10k, Pretty Muddy marathon and hiking events which raises money to fund research.

Force is with the thousands as Darth Vader visits Oxford

By Eva Astreinidou

MORE than 2,000 super heroes, villains, and comic book fans descended on Oxford for this year's Comic Con.

Gotham's The Joker Harley Quinn from Suicide Squad, and Star Wars' Darth Vader were among the many who came out to celebrate their favourite comic books, anime, and sci fi films at the Examination Schools in Oxford city centre over the weekend.

Fans gathered for the second Oxford Comic Con from all over the country dressed up to pay tribute to their favourite characters, attend talks, and speak to celebrity guests.

David Prowse MBE, the man beneath the Darth Vader costume in the original Star Wars trilogy, said "It's great here. Everyone knows what Star Wars is, and I'm proud of the fact I was in it."

He added, "The job for Darth Vader came out of the blue really. I was a bit concerned about my West Country accent but luckily I just did the physical part."

A couple from Oxford came along with their 16-month-old son who has managed to fit in seven comic cons already.

Dressed as the Joker Enrico Taylor said he met his wife, Leanne, at a comic con, and proposed to her at the same event in London.

A full-time security officer, Enrico has cross-played as the Joker in his spare time for a year now and has done shows portraying the character on stage.

He said, "I would love to go [to Comic Cons in America] but I am not legally allowed to rob a bank you see.

"If you take away the murderous side of the Joker what you have got is a very fun character and that is why I dress as him."

Paul, who came dressed as Rorschach, a character from comic book Watchmen, also had the Joker accompanying him.

His son, Callum, chose to dress as the Batman's nemesis because he saw photos of Jared Leto, the latest actor to portray the character, and thought he looked "crazy"

Fans could also purchase an array of memorabilia, including quirky gadgets, fan art of their favourite super heroes, and masks and bead gear.

Body art make up artists were also there to transform volunteers into fantastical characters.

Improving quality of life

Specialist care focused on individual needs in Oxfordshire

Choosing a care home can be a daunting and often difficult experience with so much to consider. A starting point is appreciating the difference between residential, nursing and dementia care.

A residential care home will provide support to people requiring help with personal care such as washing and dressing, whilst a nursing home – with a qualified nurse on duty 24 hours a day – may suit those with more complex health requirements. People living with dementia may require either residential or nursing care.

At Caring Homes we provide person-centred and specialist nursing and dementia nursing care for elderly and frail people. People who come to us may be living with conditions such as Parkinson's Disease, Multiple Sclerosis and Motor Neurone Disease, others may have suffered a brain injury as a result of an accident, or require ventilator care.

Giving a helping hand

Our highly skilled and passionate care teams take the time to get to know the people they care for and their families, to provide a truly home from home environment with a welcoming atmosphere.

Our person-centred approach means that each resident not only receives the highly-skilled nursing treatment they require, but that all the care they are given is tailored to their specific wishes. All of our nurses and carers work in unison with residents' health and wellbeing their top priority. We really care – it's why we love what we do.

What matters to you, matters to us

Whatever a person's care needs, we treat them as an individual. Every person we care for is a unique and special person and we ensure we understand their likes, dislikes, needs and wants, helping them to settle and feel at home quickly.

Our holistic approach to care means we continually assess every aspect of our residents' needs, and strive to make their experience with us as fulfilling as it can be. Our vocation is to create homes in which residents can enjoy activities and are able to socialise, and we provide a range of care services to help meet these needs.

With over 60 Caring Homes in the UK, including our four impressive Oxford homes, we offer a full range of residential, dementia and specialist nursing care including trial stays, permanent, short breaks and convalescent care.

If you are looking for a care home that offers personalised care, or you'd like some advice about funding the cost of care, come and discover how we can meet your needs today.

First-choice primary for 94% of kids

ALMOST 94 per cent of Oxfordshire children have been offered a place at their first choice primary school.

That is up from 91.51 per cent in 2016 and 88.04 per cent in 2015.

A further 4.55 per cent were offered their second-choice school.

Although there were fewer applications this year – 7,312 compared with 7,660 in 2016 – it means just 78 children have been offered a place at a school not listed on their application, compared with 148 in 2016 and 320 in 2015.

Schools organisation and planning manager Roy Leach said: "Through our school place planning work we are continuing to ensure that local school places are available for every Oxfordshire child who needs one.

"Oxfordshire has a strong record in this area and we are continuing to work in close partnership with all schools including academies, to plan for changing demand and to ensure that families can continue to access good schools for their children."

The county is on course to have created nearly 3,000 additional primary school places between 2015 and 2018.

Football tournament aims to net a record amount with your help

GETTING ready to score two goals in one is a fundraising organisation's mission this year.

And Play2Give hopes the return of its annual football fiesta will help towards netting a fabulous total.

Last month we announced our charity of the year P2G is preparing to kick off its annual tournament in July.

It has now revealed it will be more inclusive than ever as it welcomes girls to take part for the first time due to the increasing popularity of women's football.

Hosted once again by Oxford City Football Club in Marston the contest will raise money for the Oxford Children's Hospital.

The popular tournament which has been P2G's main event since its creation in 2007, raises thousands of pounds each year for the hospital and it is hoped this year up to £5,000 could be scored from the players' efforts.

Oxford City Girls U14s will be taking part in the tournament. Picture: Nathan Stamford

Four teams from Enfield in London will be travelling up for a third year to help in the fundraising crusade.

P2G founder Andy Baker said: "Every year our football tournaments are hugely popular and we see the event grow and grow in terms of the amount of interest.

"From just a single event to a whole multitude of events and initiatives, including merchandise, we just continue to thrive.

"Last year we raised over £3,070 from companies and teams of men entering and we had very disappointed youngsters. So this year we hope the budding footballers of the future will come together and help us to raise money for a fantastic charity – as it's all about children helping children in hospital on the day."

This year's tournament is open to both boys and girls in Under 13 and Under 14 age groups.

Nathan Stamford, manager of the Oxford City Girls Under 14s team, will be helping out on the day.

He said: "Girls football has grown rapidly in the past five years.

"And with England ladies getting more exposure this will also hopefully encourage more girls to take up football. The investment from such bodies as the Football Foundation is important to give them all an opportunity to play football."

Entries close on June 20 and cost £35 per team.

There will be pitch side entertainment including music, a bouncy castle and gladiator ring, a raffle and food and refreshments.

To donate to Play2Give or for more information, visit tinyurl.com/zksdfxx.

Last week P2G broke a new record with more than £262 raised in its Easter raffle beating last year's total of £170.

Cycle racks 'to get town healthier'

CYCLISTS in Bicester will benefit from more cycle racks

The move is part of Cherwell District Council's commitment to push for more sustainable transport in the town and create a healthier population.

Cycle racks are set to be installed in the town centre and Buckingham Road, Caversfield, between Monday May 8, and Friday May 19

Karen Curtin, Cherwell's commercial director, said "Cycling is a great alternative to driving and is key to our plans for Bicester

"By improving cycle parking we hope we can make it as easy as possible for residents to take to two wheels and realise the health benefits

"As well as increasing individuals' activity levels, cycling has the potential to boost the health of the town as a whole, reducing motor traffic promoting cleaner air and making public spaces more liveable."

The old racks on Sheep Street are being replaced with 18 new Sheffield stands which will be spaced further apart to provide greater flexibility and accommodate more cycles

In Caversfield, new covered cycle stands will be installed alongside the bus stop in Buckingham Road.

Flytip probe as 56 tyres are dumped near layby

By Samantha McGregor

AN investigation has been launched after dozens of tyres were dumped near an Oxfordshire layby

Cherwell District Council's officers found 56 tyres in a field off the A422 Stratford Road between Wroxton and Balscote, near Banbury

It is believed they were dumped on or before April 11, when the flytip was discovered by the street cleaning team.

Officers are appealing for anyone who may have seen anything suspicious to come forward.

Labels found on the tyres indicate they may have originated from a company selling second hand tyres.

Mark Harmon, Cherwell District Council's environmental enforcement manager, said: "Due to the amount of tyres dumped at the scene we suspect this offence was committed by a motoring business or fraudsters posing as legitimate waste collectors

"Aside from the environmental issue, it is likely that a trusting customer has paid what they believe to be a reputable company to undertake a task on their behalf. It is unacceptable that they unwittingly helped criminals profit from this crime.

"No flytip is acceptable but in this case the act is deliberate and prolonged which shows a blatant disregard to the environment, wildlife and our officers who are tasked with clearing the mess

"It is innocent taxpayers who ultimately lose out as they have to foot the clean-up bill and have resources diverted from tackling other issues across the district."

Officers from Cherwell's enforcement team said all companies have a duty of care to ensure commercial waste is correctly disposed of using a licensed collector Under Government legislation, the company responsible for the tyres could still be liable for the flytip even if the offence was committed by a bogus collector

Cherwell's enforcement team is now appealing for information to trace the culprits and said it will pursue a criminal prosecution to recover the clean up costs

999 teams test forced entry to respond faster

EMERGENCY medical teams are testing a forced entry initiative to gain access to patients in need of urgent medical attention as quickly as possible.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue and emergency services from the Thames Valley are joining up for a six month trial of the scheme

The pilot began on April 3 and involves the three fire and rescue services of the Thames Valley providing a forced entry function on behalf of South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) or Thames Valley Police (TVP)

This initiative aims to tackle the difficulty of accessing premises to reduce the delay delivering medical care to patients and minimise ambulance crew delays, as well as reducing the overall cost to the public

Police have traditionally provided a forced entry function for the ambulance service but do not routinely carry breaking in equipment which fire crews do have.

Rob MacDougall, assistant chief fire officer said: "Our firefighters have the specialist skills and equipment to gain entry to peoples homes in the event of a fire, so it makes sense to use these capabilities to help ambulance crews gain entry

"Since the trial began less than two weeks ago we have already assisted South Central Ambulance on five occasions and were able to swiftly provide access so that ambulance crews could attend to their patients

"We are all part of the emergency services and continue to look for new ways to support each other so that people across the Thames Valley get the best service possible."

Philip Astle, chief operating officer at SCAS, said: "Ambulance staff will make all attempts possible to gain access to a property prior to contacting the fire service.

"We would ask that any vulnerable members of the public have a key safe on their property and notify the emergency services of the code. We are confident this pilot will be effective and benefit our speed of access to patients."

TVP chief inspector Scott Johnson said: "This initiative is about providing the best possible response from the emergency services to patients needing urgent medical attention.

"It will reduce damage caused to properties free up ambulance crew time as response times improve and most importantly may improve clinical outcomes for patients This is joined up thinking and underpins our common aim of keeping our communities safe."

Youngsters rehearsing for their performance of Hot Mikado

Pupils' Mikado show is hot stuff

SINGERS, dancers and actors from schools across Oxfordshire are treading the boards of a famous Oxford venue as they wow audiences with their annual production.

Youngsters from eight schools have joined forces as part of Oxfordshire Youth Music Theatre (OYMT) to stage Hot Mikado a hot reworking of the Gilbert and Sullivan classic giving it a modern feel.

The first of four shows opened at Oxford Playhouse last night featuring the talents of pupils from Cheney School, Didcot Girls Schools, John Mason School, Matthew Arnold School, The Cherwell School, The Henry Box School, The Marlborough Church of England School and Wood Green School.

Head of Oxfordshire county music service Angela Turtoo said: "The high reputation of the Oxfordshire Youth Music Theatre goes before it and the standard is incredibly high.

"I am really looking forward to seeing them perform in a full show for the first time since taking up my post last September

"Please come along to watch – you will not be disappointed."

Directed by Paul Ansdell with musical direction by Debbie Rose OYMT works with students aged between 14 and 19 and Debbie's band is largely made up of school-aged instrumentalists

The remaining productions run this evening (7.30pm), tomorrow evening (6pm) and on Saturday (7.30pm)

A matinee will also be performed on the show's last day at 2.30pm.

OYMT has previously enjoyed putting on other musicals including Crazy for You, The Sound of Music The Wizard of Oz and Miss Saigon.

Study into the history of height

IF you were around just after the Black Death you would probably have been taller than if you were alive to see the unification of Scotland and England under the name of 'Great Britain.

And if you lived to tell the tale of Æthelberht, the first Anglo-Saxon king to turn his back on paganism and become Christian, you most likely would have been smaller than if you witnessed the collapse of the Roman Empire.

At least, that is the conclusion of boffins at Oxford University who have used data on skeletal remains to calculate how the average height of Englishmen rose or fell over 2,000 years of history in an attempt to map health and wellbeing.

Lead author Dr Gregori Galofré-Vilà, from Oxford University, said: "Since the early 19th century average heights for Englishmen have increased substantially reaching 5ft 7in in 1950 and 5ft 9in in 1970 – among the tallest of any population worldwide."

The average height for a man now is 5ft 9in.

Among the average men are Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg, One Direction's Louis Tomlinson and X Factor guru Simon Cowell.

Charity aiming to make cycle paths and rural routes 'safer'

By Eva Astreinidou

CYCLE paths and routes across Oxfordshire are set to become greener and safer.

A charity is aiming to turn thousands of miles of paths into wildlife friendly "green ways" and to improve routes for cyclists.

Sustrans and the Oxfordshire Cycling Network (OCN) are working on separate projects to improve safety on cycling routes while also looking out for the wellbeing of people and nature.

Volunteers from Sustrans will be surveying the National Cycle Network across the south of England in order to improve routes to suit the nature and wildlife nearby through the 'Greener Green ways' project.

Some walking and cycling routes in Oxfordshire and Berkshire are due to benefit from the charity's green approach including the Phoenix Trail between Thame and Princes Risborough and the Hanson Way which joins Didcot and Oxford.

James Cleeton, Sustrans' director for the south of England, said: "Our understanding of nature has improved hugely.

"We now know that wildlife uses corridors to find its way much in the same way that people use cycling and walking routes. So the National Cycle Network really is a perfect framework for a hands-on project that can benefit both people and nature."

The Oxfordshire Cycling Network (OCN) also has a part to play in wider plans to improve cycling routes.

On Saturday members of the OCN held a gathering outside County Hall to endorse their 'Space for Cycling' scheme, a 366-mile network that will run across the county.

OCN are seeking support for the scheme which could see towns, workplaces and transport hubs linked with safe and direct cycle routes.

The new route would have smooth tarmac, would be at least three metres wide and separated from busy roads by a green verge.

In town, cycle tracks would be separated from both pedestrians and vehicles.

Thousands of miles of rural routes could be made safer and more friendly for wildlife

Crowds enjoy a previous Armed Forces Day

Tribute to forces day 'will be spectacular'

ARMED Forces Day will be celebrated in style in North Oxfordshire at two events to honour the country's servicemen and women.

Bicester will mark the day on Saturday June 24 with a joint event at the town's annual carnival, while Banbury town centre will host a parade and military activities.

It will be led by one of the country's "great military bands" The Waterloo Band of the Rifles, based at Abingdon, is known for its fast marching speed of 140 paces per minute and has regimental traditions that date back to the Peninsular War of 1808-1814.

The band will be in Banbury on Saturday, July 1, in an event that will include military demonstrations, static displays and military vehicles.

Banbury Town Council events manager Ann Sewell said: "The Waterloo Band will be a marvellous sight in Banbury. They play at events all over the world.

"Armed Forces Day in Banbury is hailed as one of the most spectacular in the country.

"This year will again be a very special day in the town's calendar.

"The event is a chance to show support for the men and women who make up the armed forces community – from currently serving troops to service families, veterans and cadets."

This year the Market Place will be packed with things to see and do – marching bands, climbing wall, bomb disposal demonstrations and child participation events.

The around town parade will leave the Market Place at 11am and march up Parson's Street, into North Bar and Horsefair and back down High Street.

In Bicester the town will once again mark Armed Forces Day with a joint event at Bicester Carnival on June 24 at Pingle Field.

A carnival procession kicks off the event at noon from the leisure centre and parades through the town to Pingle Field where the Mayor gives her awards for best floats.

Views sought on police priorities

HENLEY residents are being urged to have their say on the way local policing is run.

A survey is being carried out by Henley Neighbourhood Team to help them set policing priorities for the year ahead.

The questionnaire only has two questions and takes less than five minutes to complete.

It offers an opportunity to rank a number of issues for the local neighbourhood policing team to tackle as priorities.

The issues include burglary, anti social behaviour and protecting vulnerable people in Henley town, Goring, Woodcote, Nettlebed and Sonning Common. The survey also asks whether the respondent would be interested in being part of an independent community focus group.

Sergeant Tim Pavey from Henley said, "We are looking to bring together a group of people to discuss and assess our local policing priorities.

"We're also appealing for people to be pro-active members of the community by working to generate ideas to help us to tackle problems.

' Thames Valley Police and our partners will attend the community focus groups but the idea is that the group is chaired independently of the police and that its members will be representative of the community.

"For those excited about the prospect of being part of a group representing your community and shaping its future I would encourage you to click 'Yes' to question two."

Ranking priority issues allows officers to focus their energy on things residents are most concerned about. It does not mean other issues will be ignored.

Over 100 people had returned the survey as of Thursday last week.

Memorial repairs

BANBURY. The war memorial in People's Park is to be repaired and updated.

Work on the crumbling stonework started this week and is expected to take five weeks.

An additional message will be carved to pay tribute to servicemen and women who have lost their lives since the end of World War Two.

Mike Hall, Banbury Town Council's recreation and amenities manager, said: "The memorial is a special place for many residents and this council has a duty to keep it in good condition.

"The work being done this year will ensure its future."

Golf manager

OXON. Frilford Heath Golf Club has appointed Daniel Blesovsky as the golf manager at its Oxfordshire based course.

It comes as the club prepares to open a new par-3 course and golf shop.

A PGA professional with a sports science and business management degree, Daniel has over a decade of experience.

Competition

WIN some 'A Dog's Purpose' goodies!

BASED an author W Bruce Cameron's beloved best-selling novel, A Dog's Purpose shares the heart warming and surprising story of one devoted dog who finds the meaning of his own existence through the lives of the humans he teaches to laugh and love

Over the course of five decades, a single voice—that of an indefatigable dog (Josh Gad) —takes us along a riveting and uplifting path that speaks to the heart of anyone who has ever loved an animal. WIN goodies!

We have five packs of great stuff available to be won. The prizes include a ball thrower a doggie bowl, a themed blanket a waste bag dispenser and a dog-treat jar!

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Spring into Action

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system

It s been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people s living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards Recently it s been more "celebrity muck out" than "celebrity make-over" as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby In this time I ve learnt quite a bit about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from constructed from a variety of materials Each has its own attributes, and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years Colourfence For quality value, longevity aesthetic design this fencing system ticks all the boxes Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view Colourfence is the "Rolls Royce" of fencing—just without the exclusive price tag What s more, it s guaranteed to stay in place in up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Life on The Island

A photographic exhibition exploring South Africa's Robben Island where Nelson Mandela was held prisoner during Apartheid can be seen in Chipping Norton next month.

This exhibition will run alongside a theatrical production of The Island by Athol Fugard, John Kani and Winston Ntshona, directed by Chipping Norton Theatre's John Terry.

Peter Smith is a South African photographer now living in Oxfordshire who, having spent childhood holidays on Robben Island owing to his father being in the prison service, holds a unique insight into the place and the people behind the play.

This exhibition of new and original photography, entitled Kwisqithi, will accompany the production of The Island on race.

Kwisqithi is the Xhosa word for The Island, the tongue in which Nelson Mandela and the freedom fighters debated and designed the first constitution draft for a free South Africa while taking respite from workin in the hazardous chalk mine.

Smith said: "During my innocent days as a child, Robben Island was a place I associated with long summer holidays, freedom to roam and fond memories playing and exploring with my cousin. I still hold these warm and joyous memories of my family holidays on Robben Island.

"These days are gone now but the island remains, a powerful metaphor of the ruder of perception and man's ability to instil a dark and ominous soul to an island, a shadow locked away at the bottom of the earth. Through my series of photos, I tried to capture that dark, ever-present sense of despair and literal apartheid because of being different, misunderstood or oppressed."

The exhibition and play come to The Theatre Chipping Norton from May 10 to 20. Tickets cost £15, £13 conc, £5 under 26's (incl. £1 50 per ticket booking fee) To book call the box office on 01608 642350, for more information go to www.chippingnortontheatre.com

Oxford rents rise by 22.6% since 2005

Bill Cooper co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

The Oxford property market has been particularly fascinating over the last 12 years when we consider what has happened to Oxford rents and house prices.

There is currently much speculation about what will happen to the rental property market during the Brexit negotiation. I believe we must look what happened in the 2008/9 credit crunch (and what has happened since) to judge rationally the possible ramifications for long-term investors in the Oxford property market.

An important, yet overlooked measure is the performance of rental income vs house prices (i.e. the resultant yields over time). In Oxford (as for the rest of Great Britain), notwithstanding a slight drop in 2008 and 2009, property rentals have been gradually and consistently increasing.

The income from rentals has been progressively increasing over the last 12 years. Today they are on average 22.6% higher than they were at the beginning of 2005. In fact, over the last five years, the average growth has been 2.4% per annum. However, the observant readers will be noting that we are ignoring an important factor – our friend inflation.

Turn the clock back to 2005 and take a property being rented for say £900 a month that is still being rented at £900 a month today, in Spring of 2017. While the landlord is not getting any less income, £900 is no longer worth as much. Let me explain. In 2005 £900 may have bought a two-week 4* holiday in Italy. Yet, holidays have increased in line with inflation (which has been 38.5% since 2005), so our holiday would cost today £1,246 (£900 + 38.5% inflation = £1,246). Therefore the landlord could no longer afford the same holiday even though they have the same amount in pound notes from their rental property.

This means, when we compare rents in Oxford to inflation since 2005, Oxford landlords are worse off today when they receive their monthly rental income than they were in 2005 by 15.9% in real terms (rents increased by 22.6% since 2005, less the 38.5% inflation since 2005 – net affect 15.9% drop).

However rental income is not the only way that landlords generate money from property as property values typically increase over time. Although in the short term, cash flows are diminishing many Oxford landlords will be content to off-set that for the increase in capital value.

Property values in Oxford have risen by 77.3% since 2005

This equates to a very strong 6.44% average increase per annum over the last 12 years. This will make those Oxford landlords and investors feel a little better about the information regarding rents after inflation. 6.44% annual return compares well when considered vs alternative financial investments over the same period.

Looking forward forward the prospects of making easy money on buy to let in Oxford have diminished.

If you are investing in the Oxford property market, do your homework and do it well. While some yields may look attractive, there are properties in many areas that do not have the solid fundamentals in place to sustain them. If you are looking for capital growth, you might be surprised where the hidden gems really are. Take advice, even ask your agent for a portfolio analysis like I offer my landlords.

One-year countdown for landlords to meet energy target begins

Landlords now have just a year to meet a new energy friendly target for the properties they rent – or face a restriction on granting new tenancies.

In 2016 the government declared that all tenanted properties must achieve a minimum of an E rating in their Energy Performance Certificate (EPC). Landlords whose buildings fail to reach this standard by April 2018 will no longer be able to offer a tenancy to new tenants.

Those who let properties with an EPC rating below or close to the required rating must ensure works are carried out to bring their homes up to scratch in the next 12 months.

Allison Thompson, managing director at property specialist Leaders says: "Failure to achieve a minimum of an E rating will leave landlords unable to let a property to a new tenant, while some recent legal updates have suggested they could also be prevented from renewing an existing tenancy.

"As the deadline gets even closer we expect tradespeople capable of carrying out eco-friendly home improvements to be in extremely high demand, so landlords would be wise to have work carried out sooner rather than later.

"The good news for landlords whose properties fall below the minimum standard is that there are plenty of ways to upgrade a property's energy performance including adding insulation to the walls and ceiling, draught proofing, installing a new boiler and repairing or replacing doors and windows."

Thousands of older properties across the UK – particularly those that date back to the Edwardian and Victorian periods – are expected to fail to reach an E rating, making green improvements a must.

Allison adds: "Although some landlords will be required to spend significant sums on improving their homes in the next 12 months it's worth remembering the benefits of doing so. These include potentially enjoying significantly lower gas and electricity bills for years to come."

Leaders is able to offer support to landlords looking to make eco friendly home improvements in order to meet the new regulations and can recommend qualified and experienced contractors to carry out work.

Bellway launches two show homes at Grove Meadows

Home-hunters have been taking the first look around two eagerly anticipated show homes at a Bellway development in Grove.

The Whitebeam and Harebell show homes are now available to view at Grove Meadows, a development of two, three and four bedroom homes which is being built on land off Station Road in the village.

Sales and Marketing Director for Bellway Chris Edginton said feedback from guests who had taken a tour of the new show homes had been overwhelmingly positive.

He said: "Opening a showhome is a landmark point in the lifecycle of any development, and we were delighted to invite the first home-hunters to explore both of our new show homes.

"A lot of hard work goes into the creation of our show homes, from the construction of the homes themselves and the designs that our teams come up with for the interiors, so to receive such positive feedback on the designs is pleasing.

"Both the Whitebeam and the Harebell are great family houses and represent the character of Grove Meadows particularly well. Modern family living was at the forefront of our minds when we were designing this development, and both of these house types are indicative of this."

The government-backed Help to Buy scheme is available to use at Grove Meadows, which enables prospective buyers to purchase a new home with a five per cent deposit and a 75 per cent mortgage. The remaining 20 per cent is provided in the form of an equity loan, which comes direct from the government, and is interest free for the first five years of home ownership.

A range of two, three and four-bedroom homes are now available to buy with prices starting from £319,995.

For more information visit the sales centre, which is open daily between 10am and 5pm.

Alternatively call 01235 762981 or go to www.bellway.co.uk.

Remembering Absent Friends

By Samantha McGregor

SIR Alan Ayckbourn s comedy Absent Friends is set to be staged by Thame Players next month.

Its cast have been busy putting the finishing touches to this new production, which touches on love, loss, laughter and happiness

Absent Friends will be staged at The Players Theatre Nelson Street Thame from Tuesday May 9 running until Saturday May 13

Absent Friends is said to be one of the most revealing comedies written by award-winning playwright Ayckbourn.

It was first performed in 1974, and was inspired by an event in Ayckbourn s own life, when he attended a tea party for a woman whose husband had died during their honeymoon.

It tells the story of Colin who has been the absent friend, but returns to his circle of pals after the death of his fiancee Carol, who has drowned.

Diana organises a tea party at the home she shares with husband Paul, and invites old friends John and Evelyn, Gordon and Marge, to cheer Colin up

But the characters all have relationship issues which centre on a suspected extra marital affair, and tensions are bubbling to the surface when Colin arrives

While the group try to keep matters from erupting desperately trying to be nice to Colin and get along with each other Colin is actually blissfully happy in the memory of the time he spent with his fiancee.

As the play unfolds Colin s arrival eventually triggers a confrontation that can only end in tears.

Brian Holt directing for Thame Players, said. "We're delighted to be performing one of the best plays by the most prolific dramatist of our times

"Absent Friends superbly demonstrates Ayckbourn s craftsmanship and acute social observation, with laughter and tears in equal measure."

All performances start at 7.45pm. Tickets cost £9 and £8 (concessions), and are available from Spear Travels in Greyhound Walk, Thame, by calling 01844 217228 or view thameplayers.co.uk

No time for sleeping here

By Samantha McGregor

AS anniversaries go band While She Sleeps are celebrating theirs in style, a new album, a tour and going totally independent.

Marking 10 years together While She Sleeps have converted an empty warehouse in the heart of their native Sheffield into a multi-purpose studio and have self-funded their new album 'You Are We' with the help of their fans through a PledgeMusic campaign.

Ahead of their appearance at Oxford's O2 Academy 2 tonight, drummer Adam Savage, known as Sav talked to the Oxfordshire Guardian about the tour what fans can expect from the show and the inspiration for their new library.

Asked about playing Oxford's O2 again, Sav said: "We are always stoked to play most places really and Oxford has always been good to us.

"We just want to have an awesome show and hang out after so if Oxford's down with that so are we.

"We put 110 per cent into every show so April 27 will be no different.

"The fans always make it chaos, so it's quite the show for us as well. We've been working really hard on our new set, so there are a couple of new things we haven't done before. But I can't give too much away."

While She Sleeps new album was released earlier this week. Sav explained the inspiration came from their "own experiences".

He said. "We've had our ups and downs but always managed to stay true and stick together to get through the tough times.

"Brainwashed was more of an angry political album, I feel You Are We is more of a positive spin to the same situations we always sing about just with a different perspective and thought behind it."

The band's previous two albums have been well received by fans, we asked Sav why he thought people liked their music and for him its lyrics and live shows.

He said. "We feel like we have some form of platform to speak the truth and we have a responsibility to honour that.

"We also give all we have to every live show which I think is the best way to see what a band is about."

"Hearing a room full of sweaty people shout your lyrics back at you. Sitting right at the back of the room playing drums is THE best seat in the house, I get to see my dudes rock out then a sea of fans going ape to our music. It's so awesome."

Welcome to Cafe

OXFORD Up and coming indie-band The Night Café will headline the Bullingdon in Oxford on May 2.

It comes after performances on the BBC introducing Stage at T in the Park last summer and the release of their debut EP Get Away From the Feeling.

Having grown up in the same area of Liverpool and separately developed a love for playing music while at secondary school Sean, Josh, Arran and Carl were introduced by mutual friends.

Enjoy Joe's songs

OXFORD After two sell-out years on the Edinburgh Fringe Festival singer pianist and entertainer Joe Silipoe brings his act to Oxford.

Called Songs on Film the show is on for one night only on Tuesday May 9 where Joe brings alive memorable moments in cinematic history.

Accompanied by his band Joe performs songs written for and inspired by some of the greatest films of the last century featuring music from Hollywood's golden age to the classic films of the 1980s, to the work of Tarantino, Tati, Paramount and Pixar.

Tickets from the box office on 01865 305305 or at oxfordplayhouse.com

Win tickets for prog rock legend

FORMER Genesis guitarist and prog legend Steve Hackett is back on tour and you can catch him at Oxford's New Theatre next month.

It s 40 years since Hackett recorded his last studio album with Genesis before leaving the band to embark on his highly successful solo career

Now Steve and his incredible band celebrate his album Wind and Wuthering's 40th anniversary by treating audiences to tracks from the album

The show features more Genesis gems including fan favourites such as 'The Musical Box' as well as Genesis tracks 'Inside & Out' (released on an EP shortly after Wind & Wuthering) and 'One for the Vine' which have never been performed by Steve and his band until now

And you can be among those to experience the music as we are offering the chance to win a pair of tickets to the New Theatre on May 13

Steve's brilliance is not limited to his years with Genesis and the show will include plenty of 'Classic Hackett' from his remarkable solo catalogue including popular hits such as 'The Steppes' 'Serpentine' 'Every Day' and the first ever live performance of 'Rise Again' from his 1999 album Darktown. Steve will also be introducing fans to music from his new studio album The Night Siren.

Steve said, "I'm thrilled to bring my latest show of Genesis and Hackett numbers to the UK, adding additional numbers such as 'One for the Vine' and celebrating the 40th anniversary of 'Wind and Wuthering', one of my favourite Genesis albums and popular with Genesis fans the world over."

To win the tickets just tell us the name of Steve Hackett s album which is celebrating its 40th anniversary?

Email your answer to news@oxfordsureguardian.co.uk to reach us by 5.30pm on May 4. Put 'Steve Hackett competition' in the subject line

A photograph with your fish and chips?

A PHOTOGRAPHER who has captured his subjects against a rather unusual backdrop is putting his work on show

Well known in the East Oxford community Kazem Hakimi has been taking photographs for 30 years.

But for the past two years he has been working specifically on the OX4 project presented in these exhibitions.

Hakimi has recorded his community by posing his customers against the same white wall at the back of his fish and chip shop on the Iffley Road in East Oxford.

Kazem Hakimi was born in Shiraz, Iran in 1960 and moved to Oxford in the 1980s and studied Civil Engineering at Oxford Polytechnic however he spent most of his time in the Photography department

Emma Ridgway head of programme at Modern Art Oxford said "We are delighted to be working with Kazem Hakimi on this important exhibition

"His dignified photographic portraits capture trust, warmth and compassion. It is also inspiring that he creates these excellent portraits while running a full-time business, using his chip shop as his photographic studio

The exhibition is across two sites, The Old Fire Station in George Street, and Modern Art Oxford in Pembroke Street from May 6 to July 2

Who Cares?

Experience and wisdom that comes from living your life

The older generation may not have the external beauty of young skin and lithe waistlines captured on television in magazines and just strolling down the street in every one of Oxfordshire's towns and villages. Instead however, they have a beauty of a different kind, an experience and wisdom that comes from living your life, and the evidence of this shows on their faces, giving hints of the past making them interesting – which is more interesting to paint than youth, according to local portrait artists taking part in the Oxfordshire Artweeks festival across the county next month (6-29th May). And portraits are all about capturing a person's personality in that moment that's recorded on canvas as a sitter's look will have changed as the years have passed and will change again – but their personality won't!

One of the most elegant pictures to grace the walls of any of the hundreds of exhibitions welcoming you in is possibly the big painting of portrait painter Ruth Swain's mother-in-law, Gill Swain. Gill was very bright and very clever, says Ruth. She read all the time and loved literature. She was also extremely glamorous. She loved Elizabeth Taylor, and when she was the image of her she really was! She died in 2014 – in her later years she had breast cancer and Parkinson's and she was also the primary carer for her husband so she often stayed with us for a bit of respite which is when I painted her amongst the cushion as she read. Because of the Parkinson's, I had to keep propping her back up, and we laughed about it together. Even then she was still elegant and had terrific poise. She wasn't a beauty any more but she still had it, and you can see that in the painting.

Ruth enjoys painting people who are in their later years – "I enjoy the puzzle of someone's past," she explains. "I've also painted a lady, April, who lives on my lane in Sutton Courtenay and was a soprano singer when she was in her prime. She's wearing her anorak, glasses, and bobble hat in the picture but that doesn't change the spark in her eyes even though she isn't on stage any more in a glittering gown. This portrait is even bigger than the picture of Gill, but then there's a lot of experience to fit into a picture of someone who's really lived!"

And there are also two octogenarian artists taking part in Artweeks who are still cramming their experience into their art work and hosting solo exhibitions of their past and current pictures. Eighty-six year old Ann Crawford in Culworth near Banbury is inspired by animals, mythology and the circus and makes hand-made prints that show the scenes from her imagination, whilst Jeff Lies in Oxford's Summertown, a mere spring-chicken at eighty, is exhibiting a lifetime of work from landscapes to abstract paintings created in response to classical music. For these he has developed a painting technique in which he deliberately channels the right hand side of the brain which is the seat of creativity. After all, you're never too old to learn something new!

Skoda Yeti Outdoor SE L Drive – 2.0 TDi SCR 150PS 4x4

Yeti can handle great outdoors

By Tony Yates

FOR those needing a sturdy and versatile car that can handle outdoor living with no fuss, then the Skoda Yeti Outdoor is the one for you.

Since its launch, the Yeti has touched the hearts of many SUV enthusiasts – and won a whole host of awards such as Auto Express Driver Power customer satisfaction survey 2012, 2013 and 2015.

Power and efficiency

My test car was fitted with a 150PS 2.0-litre diesel engine. It's performance is not mad blowing but it does get a move on. Nought to 62mph comes in around 9.1sec and you can expect fuel consumption figures to easily reach 55.5mpg combined, plus low CO2 emissions of 134g/km. Top speed is around 121mph.

On the road

I was really impressed by how the Yeti dealt with the lumps and bumps on our roads. This is the 4x4 version, which basically means it handles like a hot hatch into the corners and feels very controlled and steady when pushed to its limits.

But I do feel the Yeti needs to give the driver a bit more feedback through the steering.

Overtaking is not too much of a problem if you are in the right gear. Ultimately though, the Yeti is more about being a practical family SUV, with the comfort and stability of a 4x4.

Safety & technology

Inside, the Yeti looks great and has a nicely trimmed cabin, which is something Skoda has worked on a lot over time.

Rear leg room is good and the Yeti will easily accommodate a large family with ease. The quality and feel inside the cabin is very good and if you really wanted to take the Yeti on an off-road drive you can be assured that nothing will fall off or break thanks to Skoda's excellent build quality.

The level of standard equipment on the SE L Drive version starts with dual zone air conditioning, MP3 connection, cruise control, curtain airbags (front, passenger side and knee airbags) heated front seats and heated front screen.

There are also daytime running lights, LED rear lights, front and rear parking sensors, 17 inch Origami alloy wheels, Amundsen satellite navigation with DAB, silver roof rails and Maxi DOT trip computer.

To sum up

The Yeti Outdoor is perfect for anyone looking for a family vehicle that has rugged looks, exceptional safety features and some very clever technology, meaning it is more than capable of handling most off road situations, slippery roads or rough ground with ease. If I was in the market right now then the Skoda Yeti Outdoor makes perfect sense to me.

Price: £26,100 OTR (excluding extras)

Rugged looks – the Skoda Yeti Outdoor is a very capable car off road

THE LAW HAS CHANGED ... DO YOU HAVE THE CORRECT GAS?

We can now offer R1234YF car air-con recharge and service

Wheatley CAR CENTRE

Is your car 2013 or newer? If so, you will need the correct gas.

As of the 7th September 2016 we are able to offer R1234yf refrigerant re-gassing, or a car air-con recharge as sometimes known at our Wheatley Car Centre Branch

This gas is compulsory for new cars from 2013 all be it has been around since 2010, although some manufacturers are still refusing to use this, notably Mercedes who are not happy with the flammable nature of the gas, which in turn means not many companies offer the re-gassing service for cars using r1234yf. But due to the amount of cars we sell we have needed to be able have this service onsite so we can now offer this service to our customers.

A common question is why the old, r134a gas found in most cars today, is being replaced?

It's driven by environmental concerns as the new gas is more environmentally friendly

So, for ALL your re-gas and service needs please contact our Wheatley Car Centre Service Department, tel. 01865 874046 opt 2 • www.wheatleycarcentre.co.uk

Smith finishes outside points

MotoGP

BRADLEY Smith finished just outside the points at the third MotoGP race of the season in Texas

Sunday s race was frustrating for the Red Bull KTM team.

Smith, from Forest Hill, finished 15.543secs behind Pull&Bear Aspar Team rider Alvaro Bautista, who picked up the final point at the Circuit of the Americas

The 26-year-old s teammate Pol Espargaro retired mid race after experiencing clutch problems, meaning it was another steep learning curve for the KTM team as they tackle their first season in the premier class.

They had to combat tyre problems but, for the third successive race, the Oxfordshire rider accumulated valuable full race data for his team.

Smith said, "It was a tricky day with tyre choice. When the sun came out we were a bit worried about whether the soft tyre would really work and we had done the majority of our work on that tyre choice.

"The hard tyre was okay when we had grip but then we had problems when it slowly disappeared.

"I was a bit nervous when I saw Pol's bike smoking and after that I just tried to look after the bike and the tyres

"In the end I just tried to finish the 21 laps to get some important information for the team."

Gibbins ton pulls off unlikely win

Cricket

A STUNNING 125 from Alistair Gibbins helped Bicester & North Oxford chase down a daunting 260 against Twyford.

Bicester were playing the Cherwell League Division One side in a 45 over pre-season friendly at home and triumphed by four wickets in the clash on Saturday

Gibbins and Steve Lewis (73) put on a 160-run partnership to rescue the hosts from 47-4 with Ryan Moore (14 not out) and Daunt Clark (8 not out) seeing BNOCC home

Earlier, Twyford had been asked to bat and got off to a steady start through Tanveer Nadeem (47) and Freddie Wilkinson (34) after losing an early wicket

The Twyford middle-order ground out runs and really upped the rate in the last 10 overs to post their tricky total.

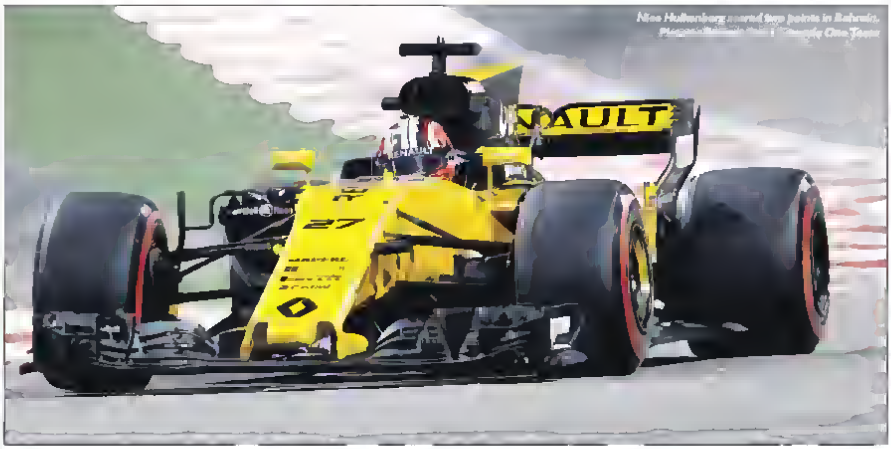
In reply, BNOCC got off to a bad start losing both openers cheaply off the bowling of Tom Weynes

Nick Moorman was sent packing for 13 and Oliver Ward followed with five. Warwick Bradfield and Dan Murphy were dismissed by Warner and Bone respectively to leave BNOCC reeling at 47 4

But when Gibbins and Lewis came together in the 15th over they set about bringing some stability and increased the scoring rate.

By the time Lewis was given out LBW and Gibbins finally caught and bowled off a leading edge their hard work had got BNOCC over the line

That left Moore and Clark to steer them safely home.



Nico Hulkenberg scored two points in Bahrain.

Renault pick up the pace

By Adam Flinn

F1

THERE is increased optimism from Renault heading into this weekend's Russian Grand Prix after getting their first points of 2017 last time out in Bahrain.

The Enstone-based team showed good pace throughout the weekend, getting both cars into the top 10 in qualifying for the first time since 2015

This translated into a ninth place finish for Nico Hulkenberg, although the team might have expected to have got more out of the race.

Russia was one of the few places last season where Renault scored points and chief technical officer Bob Bell believes the team has taken a clear step forward already since the start of the season.

He said "We head to Sochi with a reasonable degree of optimism

"We have shown a good progression so far in 2017 most notably illustrated by qualifying both cars in the top 10 for the first time in Bahrain as well as securing our first points finish. There's no doubt we have work still to do

"Equally it's clear we've taken a tangible step forward."

Hulkenberg has never finished in the points in the three times Formula One has been to Russia.

He is keen to put that right, saying: "I haven't had the greatest amount of luck in Sochi, so it would be great to score my first points there

"I think we made good progress to enable us to improve our race pace for Sochi when we were testing in Bahrain and we have some new bits for the car to facilitate this too

"Of course the Sochi Autodrom is a completely different circuit, so we can't accurately predict our relative performance until we get there but I'm feeling positive."

Team-mate Jolyon Palmer has only raced at Sochi in Formula One once, but it is where he wrapped up his GP2 title in 2014 with a win.

He said, "I have very good memories of Russia

"We've seen that the track can start with pretty low grip levels at the beginning of the weekend.

"But it will be interesting to see how the extra downforce of 2017 copes with that

"Last year we struggled to get the car where we wanted in qualifying, but we went better in the race."

Steiner: It's as tight as ever

WILLIAMS and Haas will be looking to build on their strong results from Bahrain when they head to Russia for this weekend s race in Sochi.

Felipe Massa had what he described as a "great day" in Bahrain to bring his Williams home in sixth after fighting with the faster front-running cars in the early stages.

Romain Grosjean also finished in the points for Haas ending in eighth for his first top 10 result of the season.

Haas team principal Guenther Steiner said, "It s as tight as it's ever been, with four to five teams so close together

"Every weekend it s mixed up in a different way Any of these teams can go into Q3 and get into the points

"It's a very tense battle, but I think a nice battle and it keeps the constructors championship pretty open for the midfield."

Williams are currently fifth with 16 points while Haas are seventh on eight points

Club manager's delight as young amateur joins pros

Didcot's Nicholas Elmey

Golf

A TEENAGE amateur golfer from Didcot is celebrating after making the 2017 EuroPro Tour

Frilford Heath member Nicholas Elmey s card of +3 at a qualifying competition at the south Oxfordshire golf club was enough to cement his place.

The 18 year-old s T72 finish in the final stage of qualifying on home turf against 240 other golfers earlier this month was high enough to open the door to the next stage of his career

Frilford Heath s proud general manager Russell Stebbings said: "It was a pleasure to see our very own Nick Elmey gain a category for the tour and we look forward to supporting them at the IFX Championship EuroPro tour event next month."

The EuroPro Tour which began yesterday at The Lookers Championship in Newcastle is the European Tour s satellite in the UK and Ireland and aims to develop up and coming players.

It also offers direct access to the Challenge Tour a professional second-tier competition.

Stebbings added, "We were delighted to host this event again in 2017 and very lucky with the quality of the field playing.

"The weather was on our side and the golfers made the most of it with some fantastic scores—in particular Jamie McCleary who won the event on a fantastic -10 "

Elmey is up against some stiff competition, namely from one of the favourites former European Tour player McCleary

The 35-year-old has two career wins to his name most recently winning on the Challenge Tour in 2015

Hoops, they did it again

By George Welch

Oxford City

TEMPORARY Oxford City boss Mark Jones boosted his chance of securing the job on a full time basis after picking up the Hoops third win and clean sheet on the bounce

Veteran striker Jefferson Louis was the match winner in the last home game of the season as City beat already-relegated Margate who were reduced to 10 men in the second half, at Court Place Farm on Saturday

Louis 38 scored two minutes before half time with an improvised finish, hooking the ball over his shoulder and beyond the helpless keeper to score the only goal of the game

Despite being the league's second lowest scorers Margate still threatened the City goal and Michael Thalassitis had the Gate's best chance when he burst clear of the defence just before half time.

But with Oxford stopper Craig Hill quickly off of his line to narrow the angle, the forward found himself robbed at the last second by a back tracking George Essuman.

Things got worse for the English born Cypriot who received his marching orders on 50 minutes for two yellow cards just 30 seconds apart.

With the visitors reduced to 10 men, the game slowed.

Striker Jefferson Louis scored the winner against Margate Picture: Michael Allen

After a quiet second half Jones admitted the game was far from the best fans had seen this season but was happy with the win

He said: "It was nice to finish the last home game of the season with a win.

"It certainly wasn't a classic and had a bit of an end of season feel but we got the job done.

"I thought we were the better side and created a few chances in the first half but when they went down to 10 men I would have hoped we would push on and get a couple more."

City's last game of the season at Ebbsfleet United on Saturday could be more entertaining as their hosts can still pip league leaders Maidenhead United to the National League South title.

Jones said: "It's three wins on the spin now three clean sheets and its going to be a great game at Ebbsfleet

"They've won against Maidenhead last Saturday so they will be going all out to beat us.

"It will be a great atmosphere with a crowd of at least a couple of thousand and a good surface to play on."

Ardley Cruse into final

Ardley United

ARDLEY United are preparing for the Supplementary Cup final after beating nine man Bicester Town on Saturday

United's 3-0 win against their local rivals and tenants was a little harsh on Bicester, who use the Playing Fields as a temporary home and play a tier below in the Hellenic Division One East.

Midfielder Matt Cruse bagged a brace with goals in both halves on 21 and 77 minutes. They sandwiched a Leam Howards strike two minutes before half time to set up a final against Tuffley Rovers

Despite the emphatic scoreline, Bicester did test their higher level opponents as Ricardo Benjamin, skipper Dan Bone and Gavin Kidd all asked questions of the Ardley defence.

Town didn't help themselves on 27 minutes when, trailing by a goal, Murray Nicholls was shown a straight red for violent conduct.

They were reduced to nine men after 72 minutes when Jason Pirpa was shown a second yellow card and sent for an early shower following an off the ball challenge.

Ardley boss Paul Davis said: "We were under no illusions of how difficult this game was going to be and so it proved for the opening 20 minutes or so as Bicester gave us as good as they got.

"I have watched them a few times this season and today was the best I've seen them play

"They had a couple missing through injury and we are injury stricken at present, but for a semi-final – and especially a local derby semi-final – you pick yourselves up and have a real go, which I thought they did.

"But we handled it really well. We scored three good goals and while the game was somewhat overshadowed by the red cards I still felt we deserved the win."

The final against Tuffley Rovers – the fifth meeting between the sides this season – kicks off at 3pm on Saturday at Wantage Town's Alfredian Park.

Ford happy despite final day defeat

Banbury United

BOSS Mike Ford praised his much-changed Banbury United side, despite narrowly losing 2-1 at home to Kettering Town on Saturday

A late winner from Poppies striker Aaron O'Connor condemned the Puritans to a final day defeat.

United's Manny Duku had cancelled out Ben Baker's early opener from a second half penalty but O'Connor pounced on a defensive error to grab the winner for the ninth-placed visitors

Ford rotated his side by making four changes after the previous week's defeat against Leamington dashed any hopes of making the Southern Premier League play-offs

Ford said: "I thought we were excellent. We totally dominated the game and I thought we played some great stuff.

"The two goals we gave away were comical – especially the second one – and they go away with the victory but anybody at the game today will suggest that we are probably heading in a better direction than our opposition today.

"That's how we need to play next year every single week. We lost our way in recent weeks in terms of performance but, if you take the goals out of it, we've won it by a mile

"We looked really good today. It was a nice performance to finish on, although it was disappointing to lose."

The Puritans ended the season in sixth place five points off the play offs having conceded a mere 40 goals the second least in the league

United won't face Cinderford Town, Hayes & Yeading United, Cirencester Town or Cambridge City next season who all fell through the division's trap door

Leamington, Merthyr Town, Hitchin Town and Slough Town will battle the play offs to join Chippenham Town in English football's seventh tier next season.

Penalty decision rattles Kidlington

Kidlington

KIDLINGTON concluded their first season in the eighth tier of English football with a 2-1 defeat at home to Ashford Town on Saturday

Despite sacrificing a 1-0 lead in the final 10 minutes Julian McCalmon's side clung on to a top half finish in Division 1 Central, which after a dodgy start and a change of management, can be judged by everyone at the club as extremely successful.

With Ashford also in mid-table and nothing to play for it was no surprise the game had an end of season feel to it.

The visitors had the better of the first half but it was fairly even with a lack of clear goalscoring opportunities.

That was until Kiddy opened the scoring with a deadly counterattack on the half hour mark.

The ball was rapidly moved upfield and, from an acute angle, Callum Harvey, who had been a menace throughout the half, struck home to put his side ahead.

The second half failed to produce much goalscoring action until the match was turned on its head in the final 10 minutes

The Tangerines levelled the scores on 80 minutes through an Alex Fisher penalty

Kidlington felt aggrieved and were more incensed five minutes later when Ashford completed the turnaround. Jack Beadle pounced to rifle home a rebound and to send the points back to Middlesex.

The Greens finished the season in 11th place

Leigh finish in fine form

Oxford City

NORTH Leigh completed their season in some style with a hard fought victory against promotion chasing Taunton Town on Saturday – without a goalkeeper

The Millers have enjoyed a strong finish to their Division 1 South & West campaign and their 1-0 win at Eynsham Park rounded off a busy four and a half weeks with an eighth win in 10 matches

Taunton, who finished fourth and hope to join Hereford's promotion party via the play-offs took the initiative early on as Leigh started with outfield player Stuart Hole between the sticks due to the unavailability of the regular keepers

The makeshift stopper starting his third game in goal, put in a heroic performance to collect a second clean sheet – no mean feat given that Taunton have found the back of the net 114 times this season. Only Salisbury have scored more (118)

The home goal was bombarded in the opening 10 minutes by constant attacks by the Peacocks and, although the Somerset side were dominant throughout, the Millers remained a threat on the break.

Indeed, John Brough's side should have enjoyed a half time lead after George Seacole was felled in the area in injury time by Taunton keeper Lloyd Irish.

However the stopper dived low to his left to deny Michael Hopkins and atone for his error moments earlier

Both sides were more attacking in the second half as Taunton hunted maximum points to secure a third placed finish and gain home advantage in the second leg of the play offs

And the Peacocks certainly had the armoury to win the game with a strike partnership consisting of Matt Wright and Jordan Rogers who have notched 47 league goals between them

But it was the hosts to make the vital breakthrough late on.

With just four minutes remaining Leigh counterattacked and, following a neat centre from Seacole, Roger James steered the ball past Irish from six yards for the winner

Experienced Leigh seal victory over young U's

By George Welch

GOALSCORING hero Roger James bagged a brace as North Leigh beat a youthful Oxford United side 2-1 to claim the Oxfordshire Senior Cup title.

The midfielder scored in either half of the final, played at Thame United's ASM Stadium on Tuesday night, to claim the Millers' third Senior Cup win and their first since 2012

A late goal from Aaron Heap meant a dramatic finale but United, the reigning champions, couldn't force their way to extra time.

United's Under-18 side found the going tough against their more experienced opponents, despite the west Oxfordshire side playing their fifth game in six matches with an outfield player in goal.

There was an early exchange of shots as Niall Clayton saved the first for the U's and North Leigh's stand-in keeper Stuart Hole fielded an effort at the other end.

The young U's failed to test the opposition goalie enough and paid the price on 18 minutes when James got in behind a flat back line and scored calmly to make it 1-0

It took a great save from Clayton on the half hour mark to reach a superb strike from Jamie Cook to deny the former U's striker a goal on his final senior game before retirement

James was a danger all night on the right wing and his pace set up a great duel with Graham Bryan for the U's.

And James doubled the lead for John Brough's side 12 minutes into the second half when he rifled a half volley past the helpless Clayton from 10 yards

Bryan went as close as anyone to reduce the deficit when his low shot was hacked off the line after 78 minutes and there was plenty of urgency in the last 10 minutes as the Millers tired.

There was late drama when James Cowan's excellent free kick smashed against the bar and was nodded home by Heap with four minutes left to set up a terrific final few minutes

The U's laid siege to a determined red back line and tackles flew in from all angles but United's scholars had left it too late.

However there was one U's player who did earn a winner's medal as goalkeeper Manny Agboola, who spent much of the season on loan at the Eynsham Park club but was ruled out through injury, was recognised.

Railwaymen end disappointing season with a rare win in 2017

Didcot Town

IT'S not been an easy season for Didcot Town and, more accurately 2017 has been a right old struggle

The Railwaymen endured a torrid first three months to the calendar year, picking up just one win in 13 matches

The winless run extended 78 days from Boxing Day to March 11 when they beat struggling Slimbridge at the Loop Meadow

But Saturday's dominant 3-2 win at Mangotsfield United suggested that perhaps there is cause for Andy Ballard's men to be optimistic for next season as they won their fourth match in their last six fixtures.

Didcot's narrow win – their ninth at home this season – did not reflect their superiority as they wasted a number of clear goal scoring opportunities

Instead Town had to rely on a late Ben Whitehead winner after Mangotsfield had turned the match on its head with a two goal burst in three second half minutes

George Jeacock, Sam Barder and George Reid all narrowly missed the target as Didcot controlled the vast majority of the game

Whitehead did what his teammates couldn't and put Diddy ahead in the 26th minute with a low 18 yard strike that skipped beyond visiting keeper Steveo Phillips

The visitors took the game by the scruff of the neck in the second period and goalscoring opportunities arrived thick and fast, mostly falling to Reid.

The Diddy forward kept his belief and was rewarded with his side's second goal with 20 minutes remaining.

But the Mangos weren't dead and buried just yet.

Within a blink of an eye the Bristol-based side drew level with two goals in three minutes from Matt Groves (75 minutes) and Lewis Powell (78) leaving it all to play for in the final 10 minutes.

But Didcot, who finished 12th in Division 1 South & West, collected maximum points on the last day of the season after a defensive error allowed Whitehead to slot home his fifth goal in four games

Meanwhile, Wantage Town ended their nightmare season with their 29th defeat of the campaign following a 2-0 home loss to Bishops Cleeve.

The Freds will now prepare for life in the Hellenic Premier League after they finished second bottom on 21 points, recording just four wins and shipping 110 goals.

Lions tamed at the Den

Conor Carroll celebrates with Josh Ruffels after he scored the third goal against Millwall on Saturday

OXFORD United threw a spanner in the works of Millwall's promotion push with an excellent 3-0 win at the Den on Saturday

Millwall hadn't suffered defeat on their home turf since December but the U's with nothing to play for weren't just there to make up the numbers

United boss Michael Appleton said after Easter Monday's win against Port Vale that he still demands the best from his players but questions of United coasting to the end of the season were answered emphatically

Two early goals from Conor McAleny and a second-half header from Josh Ruffels – his second in as many games – sealed the win for the U's.

Millwall, who needed a win to keep their play-off charge going at full speed, were stunned to find themselves two goals down inside nine minutes.

Despite early pressure from the hosts, the U's took the lead after six minutes when McAleny whose contract at Everton runs out in the summer fired in from the edge of the box.

The winger on loan from the Premier League side repeated the trick three minutes later when he doubled the lead, cutting in from the left and curling into the far corner

When Millwall's top scorer Steve Morison did get a sight of goal, Simon Eastwood was swiftly off his line to block his shot on the hour

His opposite number Jordan Archer had a busier shift and needed to make just as good a save moments later when Marvin Johnson let fly

And the home keeper was picking the ball out of his net for a third time on 70 minutes when Ruffels headed in at the far post from a Chris Maguire corner to end the game as a contest

Lions tamed, it was another impressive away day for the Yellows, who won nine of their 23 away games.

They have picked up 32 points on their travels, just two short of their record at the Kassam with a game to go.

Millwall continue to cling to the last play-off place one point above seventh-placed Southend ahead of Sunday's showdown.

Meanwhile, United host Shrewsbury Town, who are almost safe from relegation to League Two

One team that failed to escape the drop, however, were rivals Swindon Town whose relegation was confirmed after a 2-1 defeat to Scunthorpe United at the County Ground on Saturday
